Investment Strategy
The Underlying Fund seeks to meet its investment objective by obtaining exposure primarily to the equity and debt securities of developed market issuers. Normally the Portfolio targets a balanced weighting between equity and fixed-income securities, though that will vary depending on market conditions. The Portfolio is not subject to any limitation on the portion of its net assets that may be invested in equities, fixed income securities or currencies. The Portfolio may also invest in the equity and debt securities of emerging markets issuers, provided however that the Portfolio’s investments in such securities generally will not exceed 20% of its NAV. The Portfolio seeks to invest in equity securities which can provide a high level of income and/or long-term capital appreciation. Fixed income securities in which the Portfolio may invest include bonds and other fixed or floating rate securities, which can provide a high level of income and are issued by government issuers, government agencies, supra-national issuers and corporate issuers, as well as various types of asset-backed and mortgage-related securities. The Underlying Fund may use derivatives: (i) to hedge against equity, interest rate risk, credit risk, specific issuer risk and/or currency fluctuations, (ii) as an alternative to investing directly in the underlying investments, (iii) to gain additional exposure and (iv) for EPM purposes.	Refer to "Investment Objective and Policies" in the Underlying Fund’s Prospectus relating to the Underlying Fund for further information on the investment strategy.
