KEY FEATURES OF THE SUB-FUND

WHAT ARE YOU INVESTING IN?

- You are investing in an ILP Sub-Fund that feeds 100% into the Underlying Fund, a UCITS compliant sub-fund constituted in Luxembourg that aims to provide you with returns through medium term capital growth by investing in a limited number of bonds, debt securities or other securities issued by emerging countries (defined as non OECD countries prior to 1 January 1994 together with Turkey) and/or by companies doing business in these countries.

Please refer to the Underlying Fund’s Luxembourg Prospectus, Book I, page 17 for further information on the SICAV and page 23 for further information on the Sub-Fund share classes.

¹ For ILP sub-funds that feed 100% into an underlying CIS fund, some of the information provided below could be similar to the underlying CIS fund.

² In order for units in the ILP sub-fund to be classified as Excluded Investment Products, the investment objectives and investment focus of the ILP sub-fund, and investment approach of the manager have to be stated in the product summary:

- (a) to invest only in deposits or other Excluded Investment Products; and
- (b) not to engage in securities lending or repurchase transactions for the ILP sub-fund.

The definition of “Excluded Investment Product” can be found in Annex 1 to the Notice on Recommendations on Investment Products [Notice No. FAA-N16] at <http://www.mas.gov.sg/Regulations-and-Financial-Stability/Regulations-Guidance-and-Licensing/Financial-Advisers/Notices.aspx>.

Investment Strategy

| | |
|---|---|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The Underlying Fund invests at least 2/3 of its assets in a limited number of bonds and debt securities or other similar securities issued by emerging countries (defined as non OECD countries prior to 1 January 1994 together with Turkey) or by companies characterised by a strong financial structure and/or potential for profitable growth that have their registered offices or conduct a majority of their business activities in these countries, as well as in financial derivative instruments on this type of asset. The remaining portion, namely a maximum of 1/3 of its assets, may be invested in any other transferable securities, money market instruments, financial derivative instruments or cash, and up to 10% of its assets may be invested in UCITS or UCI. In respect of the above investment limits, the Underlying Fund's investments into debt securities traded on the China Interbank bond market may reach up to 25% of its assets. Repurchase transactions and Reverse Repurchase transactions are used for efficient portfolio management with the aim of raising short term capital in order to enhance in a safe way the liquidity of the Underlying Fund as long as the conditions set out in Appendix 2 of the Book I of the Luxembourg Prospectus are met. Investors should note that the Underlying Fund may use financial derivative instruments ("FDIs") as part of its investment strategy for investment (trading) purpose and/or hedging purposes. The Underlying Fund may also carry out securities lending and repurchase transactions. | Please refer to the Underlying Fund's Luxembourg Prospectus, Book II, Page 68 for further information on the Sub-Fund. |

Market and Credit Risks

|---|--|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> You are exposed to market risks Your investment may go up or down due to changing economic, political or market conditions that impact the prices of the bonds or other securities that the Underlying Fund invests in. You are exposed to credit risks Your investment may go down due to a rating downgrade of a bond issuer to which the Underlying Fund is exposed. Such risk relates to the ability of an issuer to honour its debts. Downgrades of an issue or an issuer rating may lead to a drop in the value of bonds in which the Underlying Fund has invested. You are exposed to inflation risk Over time, yields of short-term investments may not keep pace with inflation, leading to a reduction in an investment's purchasing power. You are exposed to interest rate risk The value of an investment may be affected by interest rate fluctuations. Interest rates may be influenced by several elements or events, such as monetary policy, the discount rate, inflation, etc. Investors should note the fact that an increase in interest rates results in a decrease in the value of investments in bonds and debt instruments. | |
|---|--|

|--|--|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You are exposed to currency exchange risk The Underlying Fund may hold assets denominated in currencies that differ from its reference currency, and may be affected by exchange rate fluctuations between the reference currency and the other currencies and by changes in exchange rate controls. If the currency in which a security is denominated appreciates in relation to the reference currency of the Underlying Fund, the exchange value of the security in the reference currency will appreciate; conversely, a depreciation of the denomination currency will lead to a depreciation in the exchange value of the security. When the manager is willing to hedge the currency exchange risk of a transaction, there is no guarantee that such operation will be completely effective. • You are exposed to taxation risk The value of an investment may be affected by the application of tax laws in various countries, including withholding tax, changes in government, economic or monetary policy in the countries concerned. As such, no guarantee can be given that the financial objectives will actually be achieved. | |
| Liquidity Risks | |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You are exposed to liquidity risks The ILP Sub-Fund is not listed and you can redeem only on Business Days. There is no secondary market for the ILP Sub-Fund. All realisation requests should be to Aviva Ltd. | |
| Product-Specific Risks | |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You are exposed to emerging markets risk The Underlying Fund investing in emerging and new frontiers markets are likely to be subject to a higher than average volatility due to a high degree of concentration, greater uncertainty because less information is available, there is less liquidity, or due to greater sensitivity to changes in market conditions (social, political and economic conditions). In addition, some emerging markets offer less security than the majority of international developed markets and certain markets are not currently considered to be regulated markets. For this reason, services for portfolio transactions, liquidation and conservation on behalf of funds invested in emerging markets may carry greater risk. • You are exposed to counterparty risk This risk relates to the quality of the counterparty with which the management company negotiates, in particular involving payment for/delivery of financial instruments and the striking of agreements involving forward financial instruments. This risk is associated with the ability of the counterparty to fulfil its undertakings (for example: payment delivery and reimbursement). This risk also relates to efficient portfolio management techniques and instruments. If counterparty does not live up to its contractual obligations, it may affect investor returns. • You are exposed to derivative risks The Underlying Fund aims to hedge and/or to leverage the yield of its position. Investors should be aware that leverage increases the volatility of the Underlying Fund. • You are exposed to operational & custody risk Some markets are less regulated than most of the international markets; hence, the services related to custody and liquidation for the funds on such markets could be more risky. Operational risk is the risk of contract on financial markets, the risk of back office operations, custody of securities, as well as administrative problems that could cause a loss to the sub funds. This risk could also result from omissions and inefficient securities processing procedures, computer systems or human errors. • You are exposed to risks related to investments in some countries Investments in some countries (China, India, Indonesia, Japan, Saudi Arabia, Thailand) involve risks linked to restrictions imposed on foreign investors and counterparties, higher market volatility and the risk of lack of liquidity for some lines of the portfolio. Consequently, some shares may not be available to the Underlying Fund due to the number of foreign shareholders authorised or if the total investments permitted for foreign shareholders have been reached. In addition, the repatriation by foreign investors of their share of net profits, capital and dividends may be restricted or require the approval of the government. The Company will only invest if it considers that the restrictions are acceptable. However, no guarantee can be given that additional restrictions will not be imposed in future. | |

- You are also exposed to specific risks related to investments in Mainland China, including changes in PRC taxation risk and risk related to Direct CIBM Access.
