Market and Credit Risks
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• You are exposed to the market risks in Emerging Markets. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>o Prices of the securities that the Underlying Fund invests in may be affected by changes in economic conditions, interest rates and the market's perception of the securities, which may in turn affect the value of your investment.</li> <li>o Investments by the Underlying Fund in Emerging Markets may involve a high degree of risk and may be considered speculative. Such risks may include greater risk of expropriation, confiscatory taxation, nationalisation and social, political and economic instability, the current small size of the markets for securities of Emerging Markets issuers resulting in lack of liquidity and in volatility; national policies which restrict the Underlying Fund's investment opportunities; and the absence of developed legal structures governing private or foreign investment and private property.</li> </ul> </li> <li>• You are exposed to debt securities risks. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>o Investments in bonds and other debt securities are subject to interest rate fluctuations and credit risks, such as risk of default by issuers. conditions, or both, or an unanticipated rise in interest rates, may adversely affect the issuers' ability to meet their debt obligations.
Liquidity Risks
● The ILP Sub-Fund is not listed and you can redeem only on Business Days.          There is no secondary market for the ILP Sub-Fund. All realisation forms should be submitted to Aviva Ltd. ● You are exposed to liquidity risks          Investments by the Underlying Fund in some Emerging Markets often involve a greater degree of risk due to the nature of such markets which do not have fully developed services such as custodian and settlement services. There may be a greater degree of volatility in such markets because of the speculative element, significant retail participation and the lack of liquidity.
Product-Specific Risks
● You are exposed to political and economic risks.          o The Underlying Fund may be adversely affected by uncertainties such as political or diplomatic developments, social and religious instability, changes in government policies, taxation and interest rates, currency repatriation and other political and economic developments in law or regulations and, in particular, the risks of expropriation, nationalization and confiscation of assets and changes in legislation relating to the level of foreign ownership, and other changes in the laws, regulations, restrictions and controls in the relevant countries. ● You are exposed to foreign exchange and currency risks.          o Investments by the Underlying Fund may be denominated in a wide range of currencies, some of which may not be freely convertible. The Underlying Fund's NAV will fluctuate in accordance with the changes in the foreign exchange rate between its base currency (SGD) and the currencies in which its investments are denominated. ● You are exposed to derivatives risk.          o FDIs involve risks different from, and, in some cases, greater than, the risks presented by more traditional investments. An investment in a FDI may require the deposit of initial margin and additional deposit of margin on short notice if the market moves against the investment position. If the required margin is not provided in time, the Underlying Fund's investment may be liquidated at a loss. Therefore, it is essential that such investments in FDIs are monitored closely. The Managers have controls for investments in FDIs and have in place systems to monitor the FDI positions of the Underlying Fund. ● You are exposed to synthetic products risk.          o Synthetic products involve risks that counterparties or underlying entities may not be able to satisfy the terms of such products, for example when a counterparty or underlying entity is insolvent or the product is terminated or invalidated due to bankruptcy, illegality or change in laws. The Underlying Fund may lose its entire investment or be unable to repatriate the proceeds of its investments in such products. Other risks to your investment include broker risk, counterparty risk, settlement and custody risk, exceptional market conditions risk, risk of using rating agencies and other third parties, actions of institutional investors and investment management risk
